

Duncan's 2nd Report
July 2013

Hello Friends -

Duncan is now 45 pounds and still growing!!! It seems like he gets bigger daily! And if possible, he gets cuter everyday! It amazes us each day how smart he is and how quick a learner he is.

We just finished another obedience class, where there were other types of dogs besides Labs and Golden Retrievers. Duncan's favorites were the white dogs - one little poodle and one big fluffy dog. He admired them from afar. His favorite part of class was getting to see his brother, Dino. We worked on heeling, staying, obstacle courses, coming and the best part was trying to stay sitting during "distraction time" when the teacher would have other dogs running around and jumping, eating treats in front of him, and stuffed animals that sang and danced. Duncan did great.

Duncan was exposed to some animals for the first time - a cat and a tortoise. He was curious and sniffed around them, then pretty much left them alone.

Duncan can walk up to 5 miles at a time now. He is building up his endurance for walks. He is a great walker and loves to soak up his environment - he loves watching other dogs, people, birds and bugs go by.

He continues to be great when going out to restaurants with us. Duncan has lost 6 teeth in the past month!!!

Thanks again for being a part of this journey!
